INDIAN MISSION * CIBECUE, AZ

Dear Friends,

July, 2014

Greetings from Cibecue, home of the White Mountain Apache Tribe. How are you? I hope well.

It is a sultry summer day and Apache children are cooling themselves in the Cibecue Creek on this overcast afternoon...school starts tomorrow. It is quite beautiful, actually. I just walked down the road from our mission and chatted and laughed with some Apache men sitting on their front porch, relaxing on a hot day, exercising

I've started a regiment of daily exercises along with walking. I could lose a few pounds and I would like to have a trimmer physique as these years progress. I want to also keep the "ticker" good and healthy too I've been taking a chelation treatment (that helps keep the arteries and vessels from hardening & clogging) and many vitamins for several years. I'm also trying to adjust my eating habits a bit as well. my aunt

My auntie in Indiana had her hip replacement surgery and it was a great success! She's already up and about in her own home there in Boonville! Thank you for your prayers. She's out of her wheelchair and she's tickled to be. Praise God!

trucks of faith and minnesota

Today, Wings of Faith will be sending "school supplies, backpacks & fruit" to us here (from CA) via truck...and Jim was the driver. A great fellow! Not only do they fly things into the native lands, they also truck them in, in large quantities. We've been giving out the food items and great new clothing! (pix included) Now these were flown in recently. Plus, these new items are just in time for a crew from Minnesota that will be arriving in a week or so. They will be ministering to young people after school hours.

Yep, MIN folks are on their way back to Arizona and we'll get several new projects going, including repairs at the mission. A sweet gal, Tracy, and her husband, Michael, will be leading this team.

new movie

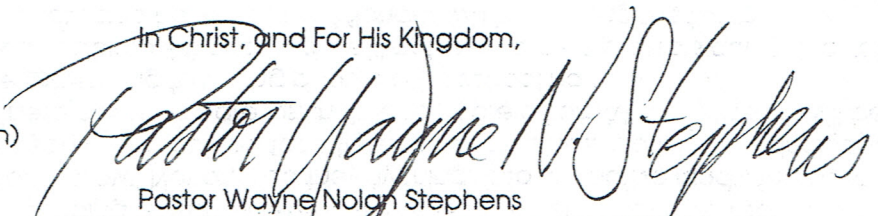

Yesterday, I was able to see the new movie, "America," up in Showlow and I was amazed at the truth that poured forth from the screen. It was presented by the same producer that gave us "2016," a wake-up call for America. This new movie showed the current trend of some people in this country who are trying to destroy our nation from within with "five lies" that are being pushed on our young people in the U's and in high schools. This philosophy is now "mandatory reading" for every student. (It will shock you!) The producer refutes and proves that these five mis-truths are false in amazing ways, and also reveals how both the president and miss Clinton are students of the man who perpetuated these lies. He (the producer) also shows how we're being manipulated towards Socialism...and being pushed away from Capitalism and free enterprise. It is a "must see" for all Americans who love their country and the freedom it stands for.

thank you

Thank you so much for standing with us in prayer and financial support. A small mission like ours only survives by the generosity of the good folks standing with it, and certainly, with the good Lord's enablement. So, God bless you, dear friend!

In Christ, and For His Kingdom,

P.S. Soon, we will be in need of major truck repairs. (Transmission)
